(DALLAS) Dec. 12, 2011 – Don Miller has been named a principal within CNL Commercial Real Estate.

Miller joined CNL’s Dallas office in April as a vice president in the retail group, and has been providing representation services for a number of local and national retail tenants and landlords. Prior to joining CNL, Miller served in a similar capacity at Venture Commercial.

“Don has quickly demonstrated himself as a proven leader in our platform and across the Dallas-Fort Worth landscape since he came aboard at CNL,” said Jimmy Grisham, Southwest managing director for CNL Commercial Real Estate. “Our team maintains a strong reputation with clients and commercial real estate professionals across the country, and we are excited for Don to take on a more active leadership role as we continue to grow this enterprise in the Southwest.”

CNL Commercial Real Estate has expanded from an original team of 12 former Trammell Crow Company partners to nearly 100 associates today. The firm is actively representing clients across 25 states nationwide and has more than $600 million in assets under management.
